PUTNEY ARTS THEATRE CHAIR'S REVIEW FOR THE YEAR ENDED 31 MARCH 2022

Twelve months ago I reported that this had been the most extraordinary year, and 2021-22 turned out to be just as challenging. We began with a welcome return to live theatre from Group 64, but Covid-19 effectively prevented any more live productions until October, and even then only with smaller and socially distanced audiences. Some classes and rehearsals took place inside, but again with very restricted numbers and thorough precautions. When indoor productions, classes and other activities began to resume in the Autumn, there was still a palpable sense of nervousness, evidenced in numbers that were still low by historic standards.

Nevertheless, we kept busy over the summer and early Autumn of 2021, with two outdoor productions, one production at another venue, one online production, and the continued use of video conferencing for classes, rehearsals and even social activities. At the time of writing we are cautiously optimistic that the steady return to normal will continue, and we look forward with confidence to a future which includes some exciting new initiatives.

Group 64 Theatre for Young People

For the first half of the financial year, Group 64 maintained a hybrid timetable of drama classes and holiday projects, some by Zoom and some, with smaller numbers, at the theatre. This tested the flexibility and ingenuity of the whole Group 64 team to the limit, but they rose admirably to the challenge of teaching and providing pastoral support in this new hybrid normality.

Group 64: NT Connections

Group 64's Frankenstein (May 2021) was the only public show at the theatre in the first nine months of 2021, memorably bringing Bram Stoker's chilling tale to life (or perhaps undeath): possibly an appropriate metaphor for many of this year's productions. The summer term devised production Group 64 and the Return to the Theatre was sadly axed at the dress rehearsal, due to a cast member contracting Covid-19 and obliging the cast and crew to self-isolate, but the rehearsal photo in this report shows that all the hard work has not been forgotten. November saw the welcome return of Group 64's Young Directors, with two teenagers directing Love Song by Abi Morgan. A regular stream of G64 alumni moves on to university drama groups and beyond, so this scheme provides valuable experience in a safe and mentored environment.

The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe

This Changes Everything

Putney Theatre Company

In December, a large cast brought The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe to the stage with charm and great dramatic effect, imaginatively directed by Stacey Burt. Additional offstage drama was provided by cast illness just before and during the run, with the actors effortlessly meeting the challenges of last minute cast changes, even rechoreographing the final battle in the dressing room during the interval.

February's Young Company version of the classic WWII film A Matter of Life & Death, was also not without its eleventh hour substitutions, but the audience saw a seamless and moving love story, a period fantasy with immaculate attention to detail. Finally, Joel Harwood's This Changes Everything imagined a near future which by chance had a deeper resonance in light of the situation in Ukraine: it raised big questions, handled with grace, maturity and humour.

A Matter of Life & Death

Group 64 again offered its ever-popular holiday projects at Easter, in the summer holidays, and at half terms in June, October and February; and also participated in the National Theatre Connections Festival in May. The proposed Edinburgh fringe production had to be postponed to summer 2022, but there was a welcome return of the Kent project for younger teenagers – a few August days on a converted farm, now a conference centre. Non-stop drama workshops grew into a show which was shared back in Putney.

Putney Theatre Company once again began the year with cancellations. There had been hope of breathing new life into Agatha Christie's The Hollow, but it was not to be. The Hound of the Baskervilles briefly occupied a prominent place in the schedule before also succumbing, and the rest of the year was not without its rescheduling dramas.

In April, Louisa May Alcott's Little Women, directed by Zoe Thomas-Webb, was a first for PTC: a radio drama in four episodes, bringing the well-loved story set during the American civil war into listeners' imaginations. In June, Ella Hickson's Eight was performed online - eight monologues (nine in the event) portraying the state of the nation: often grim and yet frequently comic.

Cyrano de Bergerac (postponed from 2020) was scheduled for July, but was postponed again to 2022. Instead we had RB Sheridan's The School for Scandal, socially distanced in the Old Burial Ground. The gossip, innuendo and backbiting of eighteenth century London translated hilariously into a world of social media and the music of Madness.

School for Scandal

Baby on Board

Also in July, long term member and award-winning playwright, Marcia Kelson, took PTC

August saw an in-nouse staged reading of Amelia Bulmore's Di & Viv & Rose, another postponed production from 2020, revived and energetically performed, tracing the lives of three young women from their first year at university and into the following decades.

In September we returned to the Old Burial Ground with Three Men in a Boat, conjuring up a bucolic Thames in summer, complete with dinghy and dog. Our first full length production in the theatre was Shakespeare's Romeo & Juliet. With a setting updated to two rival Italian fashion houses, this modern production played with many of the gender constructs of the play, led by a female Romeo.

Alice in Wonderland

The new writing team produced a sparkling and witty script for the Christmas show, Alice in Wonderland, with great songs and music by Simon Herd and Emily Robbins. Yet once again, Covid brought everything to a halt just before the dress rehearsal. The theatre was closed; set, costumes, props and lights stayed in the ready-use position; and in early January we managed to squeeze four performance dates into our busy timetable, giving both cast and audiences a welcome boost of jollity following another difficult Christmas season for many.

Later in January 2022 we had The House of Bernarda, powerfully reimagined by Margaret Lawless from Lorca's original. The shocking prejudice and violence was intensified by being set in an easily recognisable 1950s southern United States. And in February, we staged the first show in our intimate studio space since before the pandemic: Killology by Gary Owen. This was originally scheduled for March 2020 and was cancelled after its dress rehearsal just as the impact of the first wave of Covid began to be felt, so to finally enable an audience to experience this darkly funny and brutal tale of violent computer games becoming a reality feels like what we hope is the closing chapter in our Covid story. Finally, in March there was a staged reading of Celebration: classic Harold Pinter – grim comedy with a hint of underlying menace. Thus another challenging year finished – or nearly: on 31 March there was the first performance of Nell Gwynn. Seven further performances followed, and this production will be reported on next year.

In addition to these productions, there were play readings, quiz nights, a singalong, and above all the PTC Awards Night. In 2021 this was memorably held online, but in 2022 we were delighted to be able to return to a live event and enjoy an excuse for posh frocks and celebrating the spirit that has kept everyone going over the last two years. We are now cautiously returning to normality, but we have continued to go online for some readings and events, and we believe these will remain as a regular and additional part of our output.

Finances

Last year we reported that our financial outlook in April 2020 was very challenging, with the prospect of no activities, little income but continuing overheads; however, we managed to generate appreciable income and were supported by grants from central and local government, and the furlough scheme. This pattern continued for most of 2021, with our books largely balanced by grants of £20,650 from Wandsworth Borough Council and £53,136 from the Cultural Recovery Fund, together with continued generous giving from many individual members of the theatre and the local community. We are very grateful to all who have supported us through this difficult time, and I am pleased to report that our reserves were almost fully replenished at the year-end.

Nevertheless, though the immediate future is secure, the fact is that pre-Covid the theatre was running at a loss. Activity and attendance levels are slowly rising, but the trustees continue to be cautious and are keeping a close watch on costs.

Alice in Wonderland

Further comment on the finances are in the trustees' report (below) and details are contained in the accounts.

Trustees

We are fortunate that we continue to have a strong group of trustees with a wide range of backgrounds. Even so, we are always sad when any of our trustees can no longer serve. This year Joseph Raynor, whose experience with theatre education and productions for young people in East London was highly valued, moved to another job and so had to step down. Craig McAulay spent much of lockdown in his native Scotland, decided to remain there and so stepped down from the board in April 2022. Craig was an invaluable link with PTC, and his corporate experience brought much insight to discussions.

Frankenstein

Sarah Kitchen served as secretary to the trustees from 2010, and was a trustee from 2014 to 2019. 12 years is the most that officers and trustees are now permitted to serve, and Sarah stepped down in October 2021. We are grateful to all three for their service, and we are grateful too that Amanda Benzecry has now taken on the role of secretary in addition to her position as a trustee.

We were pleased to welcome two new trustees to the board: Laura Jackson is an experienced HR professional with a tax accountancy background, and has provided valuable advice for the appointment of staff, as well as ensuring that restructuring carried out in 2021 was fully compliant with the law and protected all parties. Tony de Vizio is a former PAT member and brings strategic planning experience of running media production, marketing and digital businesses, whilst he is also a trustee of other theatre-related charities. The increasing range of professional skills we can draw on is essential for the effective running of our board and we are grateful to all our trustees for the contributions they have made throughout this challenging period. We will seek to continue to develop board skills and improve diversity of recruitment in the year ahead.

School for Scandal

Thanks

There are many people who must be thanked for all they do, so many in fact that I hope everybody will understand if I mention only a few key individuals.

A Matter of Life & Death

Group 64 has continued to benefit from the inspired direction of Nicola Sterry, whilst Stacey Burt has provided firm and imaginative leadership as youth director, with very able and creative assistance from the assistant youth directors (AYDs), providing an array of live and online offerings to which our young members look forward every week and which many of their parents have gone out of their way to praise. For the first half of the year the AYD was former Group 64 member Katurah (Katy) Morrish, who left at the end of August to focus on other theatrical projects. Two delightful, talented and hard-working part-time AYDs replaced her in September. Lewis Pickles and Lauren Tranter are now well-established. They have led many different classes, helped on productions, and at the time of writing are directing the summer production of Treasure Island.

Jeff and Carrie in School for Scandal

For three years, PTC Artistic Director Jeff Graves has worked tirelessly to create seasons of breadth, variety and quality, to give practical support to all productions, and to provide calm and positive leadership when faced with cancellations and postponements. It has been a roller-coaster ride, which he has faced down, harnessing the imagination and enthusiasm of members to maintain a creative presence for PTC despite all that Covid-19 could throw at us. Jeff steps down in July 2022 for a well-earned break, and in his place we welcome the dynamic duo of Cait and Barney Hart Dyke.

Cait

Our grateful thanks to Jeff, and our very best wishes to Cait and Barney as they take on this critical role.

PTC remains successful due to the enormous commitment and enthusiasm of all its members, which has not waned despite the pandemic. Indeed we are seeing an uptick in new members seeking personal connections and creative opportunities in the post-pandemic world. Thanks must go to all directors, technical crews, cast, front of house teams and everyone associated with productions, both online and on stage, without whom no show could go on. However, PTC is more than just its productions, and thanks are also due to the members of the PTC Committee and its Chair Carrie Cable. Particular thanks to outgoing social secretary, Ally Staddon, who did so much to reinforce that social connection that has meant so much to members in the past year.

Ally (centre) with the Di & Viv & Rose team

The office was sometimes empty during the first half of the year, but there has been no lack of effort on the part of our General Manager. When not dealing with tickets and the printing of publicity material, wrestling with the intricacies of grant applications, or administering the giving campaign, Veronika Wilson has been getting to grips with ever-changing rules on social distancing and hygiene protocols. And all this is just a small part of her job description. We continue to be grateful for all Veronika's initiative, energy and dedication.

Finally, we have a sad and grateful farewell. Marie Thackwell joined us as General Manager in

Veronika - ghostbusting

October 1999 and quickly made her presence felt, working well with both PTC and Group 64, as well as our guest theatre companies. Marie established the art exhibitions and other initiatives which enhanced both our income and our profile, created links with business sponsors, and persuaded development companies to refurbish the foyer, the office and the loos so as to showcase their work. She had a central role in many fund raising events, incidentally showcasing her talent as a singer (and her husband Ben's talent as a drummer). After the birth of her son, Marie took on a part time role, and forged a strong working relationship with Veronika, who first joined as her maternity cover, and the two of them happily shared the PAT office and different areas of responsibility for many years, with Marie latterly taking on the specific role of Business Manager.

Marie

Ben & Marie

The trustees conducted a restructuring exercise in 2021, in order to prepare for a future that was almost certain to be much more challenging. This concluded that the current level of staffing could not be supported, and with characteristic loyalty, good grace and professionalism, Marie accepted redundancy from her role. We were extremely sad to see her go, and here formally record our thanks for her exemplary 21 years of service and best wishes for all her future endeavours.

And finally...

In April 2021, the theatre was closed, with only a ghost light left on to remind us that we would be back. We were confident that the energy and spirit of PAT would remain unbroken and so it has proved. Despite Covid-19 restrictions continuing for longer than we anticipated, we have been able to report on further successes and we are now beginning to adapt to a "new normal". I remain enormously proud to lead this wonderful community of staff, trustees and office holders, directors, production teams, actors, audiences and supporting members, and thank them all for helping us deliver our mission, demonstrating once again the value of the arts and the importance of community.

The trustees present their report with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 March 2022. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) issued on 16 July 2014 and the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and Ireland (FRS 102) and the Charities Act 2011 and UK Generally Accepted Practice as it applies from 1 January 2015.

The accounts have been prepared to give a 'true and fair' view and have departed from the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008 only to the extent required to provide a 'true and fair view'. This departure has involved following Accounting and Reporting by Charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) issued on 16 July 2014 rather than the Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice effective from 1 April 2005 which has since been withdrawn.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document

The charity is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO) and was entered on the Register of Charities on 16 June 2014. It assumed the assets, liabilities and obligations and continued the activities of Group 64, an unincorporated charity founded in 1964. The charity is governed by its constitution. This provides that trustees may be elected by the members of the Putney Arts Theatre, that one third of trustees by rotation should retire each year and may offer themselves for re-election, and that no trustee may serve more than four consecutive terms (i.e. twelve years).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives and aims

The objects of the charity are:

To advance the arts, particularly the medium of drama, for the benefit of the public; and To help and educate young people through their leisure time activities, especially in the medium of drama and the associated arts, so to develop their physical and mental capabilities that they may grow to full maturity as individuals and members of society.

Significant activities

The charity achieves its objectives through providing productions of plays for the benefit of the public and of participants (who are drawn from the community); through providing drama classes, productions, holiday projects and other activities for young people aged 4- 21; and through the provision of space and facilities for other community theatre groups, musical ensembles, local artists, a third age literary group and many others. A detailed report of activities undertaken during the year is contained in the Chair's Report. This demonstrates that the objects of the charity have been advanced.

Public benefit

The trustees confirm that the activities referred to above have been undertaken in order to further the charity's purposes for the public benefit; and that they have had regard to the guidance contained in the Charity Commission's general guidance on public benefit when reviewing the charity's aims and objectives and in planning future activities.

Financial review

Total incoming resources were £220,189 (2021: £198,982). Total resources expended were £230,153 (2021: £156,076). The net overall deficit in 2021-22 was £9,964 (2021: surplus £42,906).

For the second year running, income from drama classes, productions and other activities was much lower than historic norms – about £55,000 less than would normally have been expected. In addition, unusual expenditure included £11,536 for staff restructuring and £12,808 for a new fire alarm system. The shortfall was mostly balanced by grants of £20,650 from Wandsworth Borough Council, and £53,136 from the Cultural Recovery Fund (CRF). The CRF grant was split allocated as follows: £32,136 to the Income and Expenditure account, in respect of the loss of normal income, £3,000 to the Building Capital Fund, and £18,000 to rebuild reserves. We acknowledge with gratitude the recognition by central and local government that the pandemic hit cultural institutions such as the Putney Arts Theatre particularly hard.

In addition to the statutory information, notes 14 and 15, which follow the financial statements, contain analyses by activity and productions. These are for information and interest, but have not been independently examined.

Reserves policy

The charity's reserves policy is to maintain a Building Capital Reserve which is sufficient to meet all anticipated and otherwise unfinanced costs of improvement and maintenance of the Putney Arts Theatre for at least the next 12 months; and a Revenue Reserve which aims to be equal to 3 months' normal expenditure: this Revenue Reserve requirement would amount to £55,000, and is the amount which the trustees consider to be the minimum required to cushion the charity against unforeseen events. At 31/3/22 overall reserves were £53,488. After two volatile years, the trustees consider this to be a creditable result and sufficiently close to the reserves policy, since no capital expenditure is planned for the foreseeable future that is not financed by outside grants and donations. The equivalent figure at 31/3/21 was £63,452.

2022-23 financial outlook

Thanks mainly to government support in the form of grants and furlough payments, the charity's financial position at 31 March 2022 was stronger than had been feared at the height of the Covid-19 pandemic. At the time of writing we are pleased to report that a degree of normality has returned. Drama classes and holiday projects are filling, and audiences are returning to our live productions.

Nevertheless, the future can never be certain. The Covid-19 pandemic began at a time that the trustees were reviewing the charity's financial structure, since income from regular activities was not keeping pace with increasing costs, a position severely exacerbated by the pandemic. This led to a restructuring in 2021-22 which rendered one staff position redundant. Now for two years the charity's regular activities have been severely curtailed and the financial picture has been obscured, and looking ahead the trustees do not believe there is any guarantee that drama class and audience numbers will return and be maintained at pre-Covid levels. Accordingly the trustees continue to keep a close watch on costs.

Risk Management

The trustees have reviewed the major strategic, business and operational risks to which the charity is exposed. These include loss of or damage to the building, liability to users and visitors, and loss of income. The trustees confirm that systems have been established to mitigate any such risks, that insurance cover has been obtained to cover strategic risks, and that the assessment of risks is kept under review.

Data protection and information governance policies are in place and are reviewed to ensure that data is protected and that the internal processes are robust and comply with any new legislative or regulatory requirements.

Approved by order of the board of trustees on 19 July 2022 and signed on its behalf by:

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of Putney Arts Theatre

I report on the accounts for the year ended 31 March 2021 set out on pages 14 to 20.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year (under Section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act)) and that an independent examination is required. The charity's gross income did not exceed £250,000 and I am qualified to undertake the examination by being a qualified member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under Section 145 of the 2011 Act
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission (under Section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act); and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view ' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statements below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and to comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

The financial statements were approved by the Board of Trustees on 19 July 2022 and were signed on its behalf by:

erre

Perry Kitchen MA FCA: Trustee and Treasurer

Sarah Jillings MA: Chair of Trustees

Notes to the Financial Statements for the Year Ended 31 March 2022

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation and assessment of going concern

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention with items recognised at historical cost or transaction value. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (the Charities SORP) issued on 16 July 2014 and the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) and the Charities Act 2011.

Putney Arts Theatre is a Charitable Incorporated Organisation and meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102.

The trustees consider that there are no material uncertainties about the Trust's ability to continue as a going concern.

Incoming resources

All incoming resources are included on the Statement of Financial Activities when the charity is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy.

Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets comprise a freehold property that is included at the cost of acquisition from the predecessor charity. No depreciation is provided as regular expenditure on maintaining the property means that the amount recoverable on any disposal is likely to be greater than the net book value in the accounts for the foreseeable future.

Stocks

Stocks are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value, after making due allowance for obsolete and slow-moving items.

Taxation

The charity is exempt from tax on its charitable activities.

Fund accounting

Unrestricted funds can be used in accordance with the charitable objectives at the discretion of the trustees. Part of the fund has been designated by the trustees for the maintenance of the freehold property and incoming resources are allocated to this fund on the basis of the donors' stated wishes. Expenditure on maintenance and enhancement of the property is allocated to this fund.

Restricted funds can only be used for particular restricted purposes within the objects of the charity. Restrictions arise when specified by the donor or when funds are raised for particular restricted purposes.

Further explanation of the nature and purpose of each fund is included in the notes to the financial statements.

Pension costs and other post-retirement benefits

The charity operates a defined contribution pension scheme, which complies with current pension legislation. Contributions payable to the charity's pension scheme are charged to the Statement of Financial Activities in the period to which they relate.

Allocation of support costs

Support costs are those functions that assist the work of the charity but do not directly undertake charitable activities. Support costs include back office costs, finance, personnel, payroll and governance costs which support the charity's artistic programmes and activities. These costs have been allocated between cost of raising funds and expenditure on charitable activities on a functional basis as set out in note 7.

Statement of cash flows

4.

In preparing these financial statements the trustees have taken advantage of the disclosure exemptions permitted by the Charities SORP to charities that are not large not to prepare a statement of cash flows.
